MATINEE IN MANCHESTER

Mrs. Shotwell to Entertain the Children To-Day.

SHRINERS MONDAY NIGHT

Great Doings at the Masonic Bazaar.
Street and Fire Committees to Meet—Politicians Busy—Candidates for Commissioner.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, 1 No. 102 Hull Street.
Beautiful women, chatter of gay voices, sweet music, perfume of flowers, and hundreds of bright lights—that is the Masonic Bazaar.
These irresistible attractions are enough to draw hundreds of people every night, and a whole lot of business is being done.
Mrs. John Shotwell, the charming hostess of the Reception Booth, and her court of equally attractive ladies, will give a special matinee for the children at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and to-night Colonel William Allen and his beautiful and talented daughter, Miss Gertrude, will entertain.

Last night Mr. Reginald Walker put on the programme. He introduced a most attractive list of stars, including Miss Rosalie Pettit, in recitation; Miss Julia Emmett, relative of Dan Emmett, in vocal selections, and Master Leroy Mountcastle, a lad with a wonderful voice. He told some good stories himself, and the programme was one of the best of the entire week.

On Monday night the Nobles of Acca-Temple, Mystic Shrine, will attend in a body, leaving the Temple in a special car.
Manchester Lodge of Elks will also attend in a body after their meeting on Monday night.

In the drawing for the Elks' pillow last night at the Furniture Booth, presided over by Mrs. A. J. Daffron, the pretty pillow was won by Mr. W. H. Washington, the popular druggist.

Many votes are going in for the bath-robe, for the most popular girl, and the stove for the most popular little girl.
Other articles will be raffled off at this booth during the bazaar.

At the Country Store a handsome doll is being voted for the most popular girl.
In the race are Misses Maggie Grizzard and Mary Betty.

A good run of business is on in the supper room, presided over by Mrs. J. A.
Alldredge. A fine supper can be had for a quarter.

The candy booth is doing well, under the management of Mrs. Fitzgerald.
Good programmes will be given next week each night.

FIRE AND STREET.
A joint meeting of the Fire and Street Committees will be held at Second and Stockton Streets this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, to consider an application for the erection of a plant by the Independent Oil Company. A full attendance is requested by both committees.

WEST END METHODISTS.
Rev. A. C. Berryman, pastor of West End M. E. Church, will leave his congregation at the end of his present pastorate year. He has endeavored himself strongly to his congregation during his four years' service, and it is with sincere regret they see him about to go. Mr.
Berryman is not only beloved by his own congregation, but all who know him hold him in the highest regard.

NEW CANDIDATE.
Mr. John B. Martin, of Crow Springs, Chesterfield county, said yesterday that he would be a candidate for commissioner of the revenue against Commissioner S. E. Woodfin. The latter gentleman is very popular, and has held the place for about sixteen years.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES.
All the churches will be presided over tomorrow by their regular pastors, and attractive subjects have been chosen.

POLITICIANS BUSY.
Democratic and Republican politicians are busy interviewing the voters who are to take part in the legislative election on November 30. Both parties have candidates up, and both sides display confidence.

The Democratic candidates are: Senate—Joseph P. Sadler; House—W. W. Baker and Carter H. Harrison. Republicans: Senate—A. W. Wilson; House—William R.
Chapman.

PERSONAL AND NOTES.
The Street Committee will meet at 6:30 o'clock this evening at Cowardin Avenue and Bainbridge Street.

A meeting of Confederate veterans will be held to-night at 7:30 o'clock in the Mayor's Court room, for the purpose of reorganizing the Joe Johnston Camp, and to make arrangements for attending the reunion in Petersburg.

Miss Clara Harper, of Port Norfolk, is visiting Miss Rana Reams.

Mrs. A. C. Harding is out again.
Mr. J. C. Snellings is able to be at his place of business after a severe illness.
Mason Anderson, colored, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the Corporation Court yesterday, and was given one year in the penitentiary. He shot Alexander Anderson in a row at a dance.

Mr. Emmett Cox, of Chesterfield county, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time, is better, under the treatment of Dr. J. B. Fisher, of Middleburg.

A FESTIVE OCCASION

Meeting Last Night of the Fraternal Relief Association.

The members of the Fraternal Relief Association and their ladies had a most successful entertainment at the Southside Hall last night. There was a large attendance. Addresses were made by Messrs.
T. Duke and H. H. Moore.

Mr. Manly B. Damos had charge of the music. Miss Doza Mitchell and Mrs.
Walter O. Duke sang several solos, much to the delight of the audience. Mr. E. E.
Davis furnished several banjo numbers.

After the programme had been completed a supper was served. The success of the entertainment was largely due to the efforts of the committee of ladies, headed by Mrs. Barbour, of the Masonic Home.

The Fraternal Relief Association is an insurance order that limits its membership to Old-Follows.

The officers are Richmond men, and are Hill Montague, president; T. Wiley Davis, vice-president; Walter O. Duke, secretary; Mel B. Ferguson, treasurer; Thos.
B. Hicks, auditor.

A great many refreshments were left over, and the association directed that all should be sent to the boys and girls of the Masonic Home.

HENRY THORPE IN THE TOILS

Two Serious Cases of Assault Pending Against Him.

Police Officer Clarkson and Wilhelmie arrested a notorious negro named John Henry Thorpe yesterday afternoon on two serious charges.

The negro, it is alleged, was engaged in a fight with a white man, Jackson, in the back yard of No. 103 East Broad Street, Wednesday night. The door of the house was open, and the fighting negroes made a disagreeable sight.

Mrs. Otto Lehman, who lives in the house, went to shut the door. As she did so, the negro, who had been in the house some time, ran past in his efforts to escape, and gave her several heavy blows.

She was knocked down and rendered unconscious, and had been in a serious condition ever since.

The negro said at the Second Station last night that he did not strike Mrs.
Lehman, but ran against her in his efforts to escape.

Squire Graham will hear the case of Lavinia Jackson to-day, but the other case cannot be heard until Mrs. Lehman is able to appear in court.

At the Theatres

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird" shows that a gentle answer does turn away wrath. This is what makes the sweetness of the play. The wife's folly, or rather thoughtlessness, is not met with harsh rebuke, but with the gentleness of a woman who has been wronged.
The dear Mummy, in extricating his loved one from the meshes of the designing and unprincipled Humming Bird, that one first address his cleverness, then laughs at the human parasite's discomfiture, and finally applauds the courage and nobility of the play.

Many votes are going in for the bath-
robe, for the most popular girl, and
the stove for the most popular little girl.
Other articles will be raffled off at
this booth during the bazaar.

Thirty-six years of continuous success

Just think what that means. Thirty-six years in business, each year more successful than the previous one, with never a backward movement, constantly growing larger, ever increasing in popularity. How many concerns in this country have such a record? Very few. But thirty-six years of continuous success and still growing larger. Think of it! How has it been possible? By selling absolutely pure whiskey, direct from our own distillery to the consumer, with all its original richness and flavor, saving him the enormous profits of the dealers, and by carrying out to the letter every statement of the quality of our whiskey, thereby creating a confidence with our over a quarter of a million satisfied customers that cannot be broken.

VISIT FROM SECY MOODY

Looking Into the Question of More Ground.

A JAMESTOWN MEETING

Portsmouth to Have One Similar to the Mass-Meeting Held in Norfolk.

Distinguished Speakers Are Ex-pected to Be Present.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., October 23.—The Secretary of the Navy arrived at the navy yard in this city this morning on a tour of inspection. He is accompanied by Rear-Admiral Francis T. Bowles, chief constructor of the navy.

The reception accorded Secretary Moody was spectacular. Contrary to the usual custom, the salute was not fired by the Franklin as the tug, flying the Secretary's flag, approached the yard. By orders of the commandant, the salute was reserved until the distinguished official landed. This was so timed that the sound of the gun punctuated the reception of the visitor by the assembled officers.

The Secretary's visit here at this time is a special one, caused by the very pressing need of more land for the yard. It is believed that as a result of it the government will shortly be in possession of all the real estate it needs for the contemplated extension of the plant.

For an hour and a half after his arrival Mr. Moody was closeted with Admiral Harrington and Admiral Bowles in the commandant's office, examining blue prints and plans of the necessary improvements.

JAMESTOWN MEETING.

Portsmouth is to hold a great mass meeting in aid of the Jamestown Exposition, similar to the one held in Norfolk last week. It will be held next Thursday evening. The Lyceum Theatre has been engaged for the occasion. Lieu-tenant-Governor Joseph E. Willard, Hon. Clark Howell, of the Atlanta Constitution; Hon. Claude A. Swanson, Hon. John Goode, Judge W. H. Mann and Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson will speak.

NAVAL OFFICERS TO COMMAND.

Naval officers will hereafter have to take command of the dirty naval colliers. This is the determination of the Navy Department, stated on authority of the Secretary, in a letter to Congressman H. L. Maynard of this city.

This is the first announcement of the determination of the Navy Department to this effect, and it will create a stir in naval circles. It came about by the application through the Congressman from this district of Captain J. W. Holmes, a second officer on one of the colliers, for the command of one of these ships.

In reply, the Secretary informed the Congressman that the department had fully determined that hereafter only naval officers would be appointed to the command of naval colliers, and that it was most improbable that civilians would hereafter be given appointments in the collier service.

The letter went on to state that the crews of the colliers will be made up as largely as possible from naval seamen. During the Spanish-American War the crews were commanded by captains and commanders of the navy, with commission executive officers and regular naval crews. Then, however, they were armed, to protect their cargoes from the enemy, but after the war their armament was removed, and the ships were reduced to freighters, pure and simple.

Civilian commanders were appointed, and they still hold their commands.

MISS STOLA PAVLO.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ST. CINCINNATI, Va., Oct. 23.—Konstantin Pavlo, for many years keeper of Thornroose Cemetery, died at his home in this city last night, about 10 o'clock. Two weeks ago Mr. Pavlo was killed by a horse, and had his hip fractured. It was thought that he would recover, but he did not. Mr. Pavlo was doing very well and would move to his wife's old home, but pneumonia set in.

AN INFANT'S DEATH.

The infant child of Mrs. R. A. Cato died yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock at No. 316 East Leigh Street.

THE TEST CASE OF THE COMMISSION

Attorney-General William A. Anderson stated yesterday that in the test case of the test case of the power of the Corporation Commission will come up at the ensuing term of the Court of Appeals.
This is the case of the Atlantic Coast Line and other railways against the Corporation Commission, which matter relates to the power of the Commission to fix rates for demurrage, storage and car service rates. The case will probably go over to a later term.

Some of the ablest lawyers in the State are enlisted on both sides, and the trial of the case by the Supreme Court will be a lively legal battle. The contention of the appellants is that the rules promulgated by the commission are in contravention of the interstate commerce laws, and operate as an unlawful restraint of trade among the States in the cases of through lines of railways.

The brief of the appellants is a document of five hundred pages.

STREET-RAILWAY DEPT.

There is every indication that the proposed Street Railway Department and Young Men's Christian Association will prove a great success. Over 250 names have been received, and others are expected to be handed in rapidly.

The work of remodeling and fitting up the building will begin very shortly and will be pushed to a rapid completion. By the opening date it is expected that fully 500 men will have been enrolled.

In San Antonio.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Oct. 23.—The yellow fever situation in San Antonio today was quieting. The official bulletin tonight shows: New cases, 1; deaths, 0; total cases, 9; total deaths, 3.

The new case reported to-day is that of a soldier at Fort Sam Houston, who was taken sick before the post quarantined the city, but it was not determined until to-day that the case was yellow fever. The case is a mild one.

DEFENSE OF MR. SCHWAB

duty as a writer for the press to say some exceedingly plain, and it may have been thought some very harsh things, about the nouveaux riches—the idle rich—the God forgetting, world defying, pleasure seeking rich, who set themselves as a law unto themselves, who submit to no restraints except those fixed by nature and the surgeon's knife, who have no intellectual perspective, except that the longest purse brings down the biggest titles, nor rule of conduct except that, impelling them to eat, drink and be merry, for to-morrow it may be some one else's turn; a code which I can tell became altogether the rage in Babylon some centuries ago.

They society? Has Caliban grace? Is Tom Thumb manhood? Must the monkey and the well be accepted as interchangeable types, as alternating measurements, of human breeding and breeding, of the noble and the ignominious, of the reports that come to us from the inner circles of that apothecary of bor-dom, that incarnation of stupidity and affectation, which takes its cue from Leicester Square and the Corinthian Club in London—which emulates the demerit of the Parisian aristocracy, and the abodes of luxury and alimony at Newport, and thinks no more of running down an ordinary pedestrian in its automobile than you and I would think of brush-ing away a spider or a fly.

Sursus Corda! lift up your hearts! I know that in the eyes of our centers of population and wealth there is a little coterie of silly women and simpering Johnnies which would imitate the imitators; but they are too shallow and too scattered to make much headway against society, and by society, I mean not merely those who, by their character, their genius, their talents, and well-to-do, that noble American commonplace, clean of birth and clear of grit—those cultured men and women, who live without scandal and travel without adventure—not rich, indeed, but quite able to pay as they go—the rose and expectancy of true manhood and womanhood, and the people of the streets and bell-tower of our free republic.

These constitute what I call society.
Radiating from the home—the thrice-blessed in "dad" and "mum" and "granny," yea, in "Bill and Joe, Sis and Co."—its influence penetrates the dark and the light, reaching from the greatest to the countless, from the counting room to the asylum and the hospital, and, somehow, finding its way back again to the roof tree and hearthstone via the school house and the house of God; never a thought of the divorce court—not so much as the shadow of "a man's lot" to disturb them, or to frighten its dreams. May that society be ever true in its politics to the lesson of the greatest good to the greatest number; in its religion, to Christ and Him crucified.

Football To-Day.

games to be played to-day here and in ports of both.
